

Yeast Coaching Packages

All of Yeast's Coaching products come in 3 separate packages, depending on both your budget and the speed of change, development or improvement required by the organisation.

All of our coaching packages include access for the individual to our library of online learning resources and access to their coach via phone and email between coaching sessions.

Gold Coaching Package

The Gold package is our premium package of support, including:

- Onsite support of a coach for 1 day per month for any purpose (Team development, 1:1 support or workshop development).
- Phone and email access to their coach (or an alternative from the Yeast team), with a response time of 24hours.
- Access to our library of online learning resources and thought leadership.
- 10% Discount on any of our Development packages

Silver Coaching Package

The Silver package is our mid-tier package of support, including:

- Onsite support of a coach for 1 day per Quarter for any purpose (Team development, 1:1 support or workshop development).
- 1:1 Coaching session on skype once per month between onsite sessions
- Phone and email access to their coach (or an alternative from the Yeast team), with a response time of 24hours.
- Access to our library of online learning resources and thought leadership.
- 10% Discount on any of our Development packages

Bronze Coaching Package

The Bronze package is our entry-level package of support, including:

- Online Coaching sessions once per month
- Phone and email access to their coach (or an alternative from the Yeast team), with a response time of 48 hours.
- Access to our library of online learning resources and thought leadership.
- 5% Discount on any of our Development packages

All of our packages are completely flexible and can be upgraded, downgraded or cancelled with 30 days notice. Onsite support can be 'banked' during busy periods for a maximum of two months as long as it is used within 3 months.
